30th Anniversary Symposium II
“Viruses and Cancer”

Friday, March 18, 2016
8:00 am—1:30 pm
Herberman Conference Center
Pittsburgh, PA

Sponsored by the University of Pittsburgh Cancer Institute, UPMC CancerCenter, and the University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine Center for Continuing Education in the Health Sciences.
Course Directors
Yuan Chang, MD
Patrick S. Moore, MD, MPH

Target Audience
UPC I and University of Pittsburgh faculty members and fellows, as well as cancer investigators from nearby academic institutions in Ohio, New York, and Pennsylvania.

Program Overview
This program will provide an up-to-date overview of the epidemiology, therapeutics and basic biology of viruses that cause human cancer and the role that the immune system plays in controlling cancer cell growth.

Learning Objectives
At the completion of this activity, participants will be able to:
- Appreciate the diversity of human cancers associated with viruses
- Identify the diverse ways that viruses can affect cellular signaling pathways
- Discuss characteristics of virus associated cancers

CME Accreditation
The University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit(s)™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Other health care professionals are awarded 0.5 continuing education units (CEU’s) which are equal to 5 contact hours.

The Americans With Disabilities Act
Participation by all individuals is encouraged. Advance notification of any special needs will help us provide better service. Please notify us of your needs at least two weeks in advance of the program by calling Mary Kate Egan at 412-623-3651.

Faculty Disclosure
All individuals in a position to control the content of this education activity are required to disclose all relevant financial relationships with any proprietary entity producing, marketing, re-selling, or distributing health care goods or services, used on, or consumed by, patients.

The University of Pittsburgh is an affirmative action, equal opportunity institution.
